

Saturday, June 7. Particularly the Favored Day by Brides in Town and Country—Many Changes in Choice of Summer Homes Announced as Season Opens.

WEDDINGS of this week are keeping many families in town, although numerous houses show by their drawn shades that the occupants have left them for the summer. As suburban country places are being opened it will be no hardship to motor in to New York even on a warm day for the weddings of this week, which will keep society well engaged, and by another fortnight there will be but small evidence of town life save for the presence of many strangers who are here in place of going to Europe, as in former years. There will be some country weddings on Saturday. That of Miss Caroline Knapp to Ensign Charles Kintzing Post, U. S. N., will attract many to Brookwood, the country place of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kearsarge Knapp, in East Islip, L. I. On the same day in Tannersville, N. Y., there will be a wedding of much interest to New York society, when Miss Josephine Louise Chamberlin will be married to Gerard H. Coster of this city and Katonah. The marriage in Stockbridge, Mass., also on Saturday, of Miss Alma de Gersdorff and D. Percy Morgan, Jr., will call many from New York. Therefore society on that day will be widely dispersed, as there also will be several weddings of note in town. Before the end of the month there are sure to be other country weddings yet to be announced, and then will begin the season at the various resorts.

Another event to draw society out of town next Saturday will be the dog show on the grounds of the Morris County Golf Club, Convent, N. J. It will be interesting not only from the line of sport, but from the fact that the entire net proceeds will be devoted to the upkeep of the Speedwell Homes Society, an organization that places invalid children in surroundings which restore them to health. Among the numerous exhibitors will be Mrs. Payne Whitney, the Misses Beatrice and Gertrude de Coppel, Miss Margaret Mellon, Miss M. B. Frelinghuysen, Mrs. Charles Scribner, Jr., George B. Post, J. Macy Willets, W. Ross Proctor and others, some of whom rarely exhibit.

It will be an all day show and there will be dancing between luncheon and tea, with music by the Morristown Band. Among the donors of prizes, any of which will be worth winning, are Mrs. Robert F. Ballantine, Arthur Whitney, Miss Frelinghuysen, Mrs. Charles Bradley, Miss Ruth Twombly, Gen. and Mrs. Edward P. Meaney, Francis G. Lloyd, Kenneth B. Hobley, Leland Ross, Mrs. Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen, W. Ross Proctor, Paul Moore, Mrs. J. O. H. Pitney, George Marshall Allen, John G. Bates, Mrs. Charles Henry Mellon, Mrs. George P. Smith, Mrs. D. Hunter Mo-Alpin, Mrs. Wynant D. Vanderveer, Mrs. George Victor, Miss Marjorie Motley, Miss Helen Spader, Mrs. Henry Rawie, Miss Cara Foster, Mrs. George G. Thompson, Mrs. Rudolph Neeser, Mrs. Pomeroy Francis, Mrs. J. McAlpin Pyle, Mrs. Earle Cutler, Mrs. Haley Fishbein, Mrs. Roy A. Rainey, Mrs. Paul Moore and Mrs. Charles M. Fleischmann.

It will be a gala occasion for Morristown, Convent and other towns in that section, and all the country houses will be filled for the week end. Tickets may be obtained at any of the hotels and ticket offices in New York.

The Woman Citizen

A Weekly Chronicle of Woman's Progress

The New Story

Woman as wife, mother, and home-maker is an old, old story. The so-called women's magazines tell it every month. The general magazines tell it.

Woman as citizen is another story. Every day it grows in significance to Woman, to the Home, and to the World. Every day questions like the Americanization question, the question of good schools, of good roads, question of wages, and hours and conditions of work, press closer and closer upon the walls of home and the home woman. Every day, Woman, the Citizen, is more sharply defined on the horizon of the future. This is the new story.

WHO IS TELLING IT? That is the question. THE WOMAN CITIZEN. That is the answer.

The magazine which fights for and with women, not only to win the full privileges of citizenship but to measure up to its full responsibilities.
